

STADIUM, FIELD
TO BE IMPROVED WITH NEW FUNDS

$40,000 Government Appropriation Will Be Used to Build New Improvements

PRESS BOX, RADIO ROOM ARE PLANNED

Concrete Wall, Suyk Stand, Running Track, Retaining Wall Listed

An appropriation of $40,000 from the Federal government will be used in improving the football field and stadium, it was announced Monday by Prof. D. V. Terrell, civil engineering department. The plan call for 1,100 feet of concrete wall, a running track, press box, and a Suyk stand.

In the place of the wooden fence that is now on the north side of the field a ten foot concrete wall, 500 feet long will be built. The wall, about four feet thick, will slope to the top. On the south side of the field a 600 foot retaining wall will be erected. This wall will be built out from the present fence and will include about half an acre more ground in the field.

A modern press box, accommodating seventy press writers, will be built at the top of the south stand. The box will be constructed of concrete, with a large plate glass window at the front. It will be 35 feet long, 18 feet high, and will contain three tiers of tables on the inside. Included in this structure there will be a broadcasting room, a place for the public address system and other facilities.

The present running track, around the outside of the playing field, will be removed and a new track put in. It will be a quarter of mile long, with 220 yard straight away filled to a depth of 18 inches with crushed stone.

A drainage system will be put in, covered with 18 inches of crushed stone, topped with cinders and then coal ashes as the top layer. The track specifications are according to national regulations and records made on it, will be official.

Under the south stand, a Suyk room is to be built, with built-in coolers and counters. The tops of each side of the stadium will be waterproofed, so it will withstand the weathering.

Construction is to start as soon as possible, but it will not begin before the football season is over, so that the stadium will not be disturbed for the Thanksgiving game.

STUDENT GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Frosh Absent from Cheering Section at Game to Be Called on Carpet; May Be Suspended by Council

At a meeting of the Men's Student council held yesterday afternoon, it was decided that all petitions for freshmen, sophomore, and junior class offices had to be in the Dean of Men's office by noon next Monday. These petitions must be accompanied by the signatures of 25 persons in the respective classes, and the candidates for each office must signify his willingness to run for office by affixing his signature to the petition.

A motion was passed and carried saying that all freshmen caught not wearing their caps will be brought before the council and suspended from the University for a time not less than a week and not more than a month.

Those freshmen who did not appear in the freshmen cheering section at the Kentucky-Florida game last Saturday will be notified to appear before the Student council next Monday at 4 p. m. They will be dealt with accordingly, and punished by being suspended from the University.

Tuberculin Tests Carded for Today

Tuberculin tests will be given this afternoon to all freshmen who did not report back to the dispensary when they were given the test at the beginning of the year. All upperclassmen who desire to have the test at this time may report to the dispensary between 1 and 5 p. m. today.

The following students kindly report to the laboratory of the dispensary and obtain the results of their X-ray pictures immediately:

International Trio Entertains Throng At Weekly Musicale

Well Balanced Program Is Enthusiastically Received By Large Crowd

By DAVE SALTERS

An audience which filled the Memorial auditorium despite inclement weather enthusiastically received the International Trio, consisting of Winifred Merrill, violin, Lennart Von Zweyberg, cello, and Ernest Hoffzimler, piano, Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m., in the second of the weekly musicales under the direction of Professor R. D. McIntyre.

The artists displayed unusual finesse in handling their instruments and presented their arrangements with excellent cooperation and perfect ease. Although several of the numbers were short, the effect created was all that could be desired.

The program consisted of five parts, the first a number by the trio, the second a series of three numbers by Mr. Hoffzimler, the third three numbers by Mr. von Zweyberg, the fourth three numbers by Miss Merrill, and the concluding part a selection by the trio. The first number was the "Geister Trio, D Major, Opus 70, Number 1," by Beethoven, three movements being played, the allegro vivace e con brio, the largo, and the presto. This exceedingly difficult number was rendered in perfect fashion.

Dr. Hoffzimmers selections consisted of Chopin's "Etude, C minor, Opus 24," Chopin's familiar "Nocturne in F sharp" and "Nocturne in G major." Many stunts are being arranged, including calling contests for boys and girls, designed to show their talent at bringing in the chickens and pigs; a milking contest for girls, and a greased pig race for pledges of the Block and Bridle club, honorary organization of students in agriculture. There will be plenty of buttermilk and cider on hand. The lucky lady in the crowd will be given a fifteen pound turkey and the lucky man will be presented with a basket of apples. Almost every department in the college will be represented by an exhibit in a booth for that department.

A brief address by Dean Thomas P. Cooper was promised as the whole of the speaking program. Prize livestock from the Experiment Station's herds and flocks will be shown to the visitors.

The fall festival is being arranged under the direct supervision of the Block and Bridle Club and the Home Economics club, assisted by members of the Alpha Zeta, dairy and poultry clubs, student organizations.

Hog Calling, Chicken Calling and Greased Pig Roll to Top Program

The annual fall festival sponsored by students in the College of Agriculture will be held Wednesday night from 7:30 until 10:00, Nov. 13, in the livestock pavilion on the Experiment Station farm.

An assemblage of prize turkeys from all over the state, and from other states, will be on display on the second floor of the livestock pavilion, from 7 to 10 o'clock Wednesday evening, and again all day Thursday. Persons not familiar with the breeding element of the big holiday bird will be amazed at the size of some of the gobblers exhibited at this show.

The fall festival proper will be held in the judging arena of the livestock pavilion, with George Kurtz, Lancaster, as ringmaster. Many stunts are being arranged, including calling contests for boys and girls, designed to show their talent at bringing in the chickens and pigs; a milking contest for girls, and a greased pig race for pledges of the Block and Bridle club, honorary organization of students in agriculture. Wildcats, With Davis Making Brilliant 59-Yard Run For Touchdown in Final Minutes, Beat Florida 15 - 6

A last minute jaunt of 59 yards ending in a touchdown by Bob Davis, brilliant Wildcat sophomore, gave the 10,000 alumni, students and townspeople, who had gathered on Stoll field Saturday for the annual Kentucky homecoming, something to remember him by as he led his team mates to a 15-6 victory over the University of Florida "Gators."

Davis' brilliant run was made all the more colorful when, two plays earlier in the game he was injured after making a first down on the Florida 46-yard line. Coach Wynne sent Waddington into the conference to offset the Auburn and Alabama defeats.

The fans felt from the outset that Kentucky would win but they were resting uncomfortable in their seats in the third quarter when Bert Johnson fumbled the ball on his own 14-yard line and a Florida man

Kernel Thanked By Old Graduate

I just want to express my appreciation to the management and staff of this paper for the wonderful and effective cooperation that has been granted Stroller Alumni Association in the matter of our 25th anniversary celebration.

Of course, it will be impossible for me to ever erase from my mind the numerous things that were said and the numerous things that were done, but I know that one memory will fail to pass. That is, I shall never be quite able to forget the manner in which this paper supported our anniversary idea. Its management gave liberally and the giving was so graciously done that it was the outstanding factor responsible for the success of our breakfast and reception.

BEAUTY QUEEN WILL BE CHOSEN AT KYIAN DANCE

Kentuckian, Junior League Groups Will Sponsor Affair on Saturday Night

MOST POPULAR MAN WILL BE SELECTED

Names of Men, Women Candidates Will Be on Display Today

The Kentuckian-Junior League dance will be given in Alumni gymnasium Saturday night from 9 to 12, with music by Andy Anderson and his orchestra. The Kentuckian beauty queen and the most popular man will be chosen at the dance.

Six men judges will select the beauty queen. Three of them will be University faculty, and three others will be selected from the student body. The manner in which the University men will be selected is as follows: The names of 10 outstanding campus men for judges will be put in a hat, and three of them will be drawn at the dance.

Among the early contestants who have been turned in are: Barbara Smith, Lois King and Lucile Thornton, representatives of Kappa Gamma; Lucy Maddox, representative of Chi Omega, and Velma Hardesty and Elsie Woodson are two of the Alpha Gamma Delta's representatives. There have been no names of candidates for most popular man turned in at press time.

The names of both men and women candidates will be posted on a large "K" in the post office, and will be on display today. As the names of the candidates are turned in they will be added to the "K." All names must be turned in by 4 p. m., Thursday, Nov. 14. This is the last possible time candidates will be accepted. The sale of 10 Kentuckians is the basis for nomination of one representative for either honor.

The candidates for beauty queen will be presented on a raised platform as they were last year. The ballots for most popular man will be given at the door with each paid admission, and may be deposited in a ballot box at the door.

Armistice Parade Postponed Due To Inclement Weather

Due to heavy rain the parade scheduled for the Armistice Day observances was called off, but a ceremony on the courthouse yard was held as planned at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Virgil McClure, past national president of the Fayette County War Mothers, offered a prayer at the beginning of the ceremony. A wreath was hung on the marker dedicated to the Fayette men who gave their lives in the World War.

Despite the rain, a large crowd was present. Jean Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson, Bassett Avenue, recited the poem "The Nameless Dead." A firing squad of University of Kentucky students fired a volley, and Ellis Goe blew "Taps".

It would not be fair to reveal the plot of this entertaining mystery—suffice it to say that the action takes place on the stage of an empty theater, where years ago, a cruel murder had taken place. According to the legend of the theater certain terrible things will happen on a certain night, at a certain hour, in a certain way. Well, these things do happen—and how!

The cast is uniformly excellent. There are no weak characters in the play and every one seems to be fitted for the part he plays. The play moves with speed, lines are delivered with the necessary "punch" and the whole production has a thoroughly professional air.

Katherine Davis, who has appeared in many Guignol plays, gives an excellent account of herself as the harassed secretary, Miss Grossze. The blonde beauty of Barbara Smith, a newcomer to the Guignol, coupled with splendid histrionic ability, makes her a welcome addition. Miss Smith plays the role of Lady Jasper. Jean Abel, as Mrs. Wragg, a cockney charwoman, does a nice bit of character work as does Genevieve Liles, as Mrs. Arthur, the domineering mother of Lady Jasper. One of the most interesting characters seen in the Guignol, was the debonair performance as Jimmie North, a young man-about-town, James Boucher is excellent as Sir Charles Jasper. He speaks his lines with assurance and gives a convincing performance throughout the play—even in the last act. Alexander Capurso has a part which he plays frequently in real life—that of the orchestra leader. He speaks his lines and leads his orchestra with equal assurance.

Recovered it. The Gators had a first down on the Kentucky 14 and they intended to take advantage of this, their first opportunity to score. Capt. Billy Chase, Florida left half-back, gained one yard, and then Christian, on an end around play carried the ball to the Kentucky 9-yard line. Chase then hit the center of the line for four yards. Florida had it fourth down and five yards to go for a marker. McAnally, Gator fullback, hit the line for a first down on the Wildcat two-yard stripe. McAnally then hit the left tackle for no gain. Chase tried the right tackle with the same result.

The fans felt from the outset that Kentucky would win but they were resting uncomfortable in their seats in the third quarter when Bert Johnson fumbled the ball on his own 14-yard line and a Florida man

This is the first in a series of six dinners to be held every six weeks during the school year. Dr. J. Archer Gray, pastor of Everybody's Church, Lexington, will be the principal speaker.

An after-dinner program has been planned, consisting of informal speeches, songs, and music by the University radio artists. Don Reister, president of the YMCA, will preside.

All persons interested in the YMCA and its work and members of the organization are invited to obtain tickets, which are being sold for 40 cents each, by members of the Senior cabinet, among whom are Henry Adams, Tommy Atkins, Frank Burger, William McCabe, John Darnell, Wesley Dodge, Frank Ellis, Ray Lathrem, Dan Reister, Leslie Scott and John Spragans.

Kappa Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho Win Suyk Awards For Homecoming Decorations

Pikaps, Alpha Gams Come In Second; Phi Taus, Kappasigs Tie for 3rd Place

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and Kappa Delta sorority were awarded the annual cups given by Suyk for the best decorated fraternity and sorority house for the Homecoming Saturday, according to an announcement of the winners made at the Alumni Homecoming dance Saturday night.

Second place in the fraternity contest was given to the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and Kappa Sigma and Phi Kappa Tau fraternities tied for third place. In the sorority contest, Alpha Gamma Delta came second and Kappa Gamma Gamma third. Awards were made on the basis of originality of idea, execution, attractiveness, time and effort, and appropriateness to the occasion. Judges who selected the winners were Lieutenant Colonel B. E. Brewer, Clint Cleveland, advertising manager of the Lexington Leader and Robert Rouse, city editor of the Lexington Herald.

The Kappa Delta winning decoration featured a large sign showing a caricature of Coach Wynne blowing away an alligator. Above it were printed the words, "You think you've had a hurricane—wait until you see our Wynne." The winning fraternity display was based on the idea "Kentucky holds the cards." Large playing cards bearing picture of Wynne, Johnson, Davis, and other players were spread across the front lawn of the house.

Announcement of the winning decoration in the downtown business houses, a cup for which is awarded annually by Suyk, was also made at the dance. J. D. Purcell's department stores was awarded the first prize, Keller-Oram florists second, and Phoenix Drug company third. In the business-house group, the store winning the cup three consecutive times is awarded permanent possession of it.

BAND AT FESTIVAL

The University Blue and White band, under the direction of John Lewis, Jr., attended the Donaldson Day celebration at Carrollton Thursday, November 7. "Donaldson Day" was celebrated in connection with the lifting of the toll from the Donaldson bridge and the band played several pieces at the ceremonies.

AND STILL NO TICKETS

Saturday some ten thousand people gathered in McLean Stadium to witness the outstanding football occasion of the year—the Alumni Homecoming game. Students, faculty, alumni, mothers and fathers—all were there with one notable exception.

That notable exception was the fraternity and sorority housemothers. The Athletic Council has not yet seen fit to include in its list of complimentary guests these diligent, loving ladies who mean so much to their respective organizations and to campus life in general.

To make no provision whatsoever for these integral parts of University life is little short of tragic in as much as they are all interested in the team and would like to show their enthusiasm for it by attending the home football games. They are obviously handicapped by financial reasons, beyond their own control and the control of the organizations which they serve.

If the powers-that-be feel it is asking too much to request complimentary tickets for these ladies who mean so much in their respective fields, they could at least grant them the same privileges which are accorded the members of the faculty, namely the right to buy a season ticket at a reduced rate. If such were done the various organizations could afford to and would be willing to buy the tickets for their respective housemothers.

The football season is almost over but there remains yet all of the basketball season in which the housemothers will be equally interested. It is the hope of The Kernel that some action will be taken in the very near future which will make it possible for them to attend the basketball games during the coming season.

IS IT SUBVERSION?

Much has been said regarding subversive practices among the professors of our American universities and colleges. For the most part, such action has been directed toward state-supported, tax-free schools, because it is here that the elements of national ethics and patriotism find their way to the front more readily. In the case of any educational institution, however, the situation is still the same—little, if any differentiation has been made between teaching as it should be done and subversion as it actually is.

It should not only be the right of any teacher, but also his duty to explain thoroughly all doctrines which might be termed inimical to our institutions. Both sides of an issue can be expounded upon and upheld without overstepping the normal and reasonable rights of the teaching profession. To teach in an American institution that Communism aims to make war on Democracy is explanation. But to teach that Communism should make war on Democracy is subversion, instigation of revolution, and indoctrination.

In the Open Forum held recently on this campus, a University professor expressed much the same idea as we have stated above regarding the rights and duties of a teacher. Whether or not a professor may express his own views to his students depends on the nature of the proof he has to support his stand and on the requisite that he also express support for the opposite side.

Professor Edward H. Reisner of Columbia University in a recent address drew a parallel between Russian, German, Italian and American schools. He said, "In the last analysis, the instruction in American schools is controlled by the accepted and dominant values of American culture just exactly as the schools of contemporary Russia, Germany and Italy are controlled by the social purposes of the groups which find themselves in power."

Our American culture has been gained at a terrific cost of life and property. It is the supreme duty of our teachers to protect American cultural life where it is most vulnerable, namely, in education. Dr. Reisner continues with, "It is unlikely that teachers will find themselves encouraged to continue to propagate at public expense, doctrines which seem to be destructive to American Society. It is the activity of those who exceed their reasonable rights, which prompts legislators to save the schools from what they consider to be propaganda destructive of American Society and inimical to the democratic tradition."

It is essential to the protection of American culture, however, that all doctrines whether unpropitious or not, should be explained in our universities and colleges. It is in the relation between explanation and indoctrination that we find the margin between Teaching and Subversion. —Daily Californian, University of California.

PRAISE WHEN DUE

It has grown customary for editorial writers to blame persons and condemn things, but never give credit where credit is due. At this time The Kernel wishes to commend the student body for its cooperation in the attempt to curb excessive drinking during the home-coming festivities. The welcome sight of persons in possession of all their faculties instead of staggering drunks was noticed and commented upon by nearly everyone at the game.

Although conditions were slightly worse at the dance, it was a remarkable improvement over the home-coming dances of the years past, when it was necessary to carry some of our guests out of the gymnasium. This proved that it is possible to eliminate the unpleasant criticism which results from intoxication, and the Student Council has resolved that it will maintain this high standard throughout the remainder of the school year.

A splendid example of the temperance which was observed during the week-end is the story about one of the judges of the home-coming decorations who went in one of the houses which was under consideration and asked for a drink . . . since he had been tramping around all morning in the damp, thereby subjecting himself to cold and possible pneumonia. To his surprise and the chagrin of the boys, not a drop could be found in the entire house.

This unnecessary menace has been successfully combated, and now it will not be difficult to keep down, if the student body will continue to give its support to the Student Council, Athletic Council, and the Lexington Police Department.

Kentucky High School papers will have their relative merits compared monthly during the present school year by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity at the University of Kentucky, according to a recent announcement. Honorable mention will be given each month to the paper having (1) the best news story; (2) the best feature story; (3) the best editorial; and (4) the best make-up.

Five students from foreign countries are enrolled at the University of Kentucky this fall. They hail from Germany, Cuba, the Argentine, Brazil and Porto Rico.

Two series of educational plays are now being broadcast weekly from the University studios of station WHAS, Louisville, at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. "Epoch Discoveries of the Past" on Tuesdays at 1:15 p. m. dramatize important discoveries. "Famous Plays," presented each Thursday, 1 and 1:30 p. m., are either condensations of "Othello," "Romeo and Juliet," or plays of like character.

Four extensive museums are now open on the University of Kentucky campus and available to visitors six days a week. Important mural paintings in the University library and Memorial hall and regular art exhibitions at the Art Center are other attractions for visitors.

College students, notoriously hard drivers, are having a little caution instilled these days. The sensational Reader's Digest article—"And Sudden Death," which deals realistically with the horror of automobile crashes, is being widely reprinted in the collegiate press.

The first college cheer is credited to Princeton students, who got the idea from an unknown private of the Seventh Regiment of New York, as the outfit mobilized for war in April, 1860.

Two Indiana campus sweethearts of the 90's have found a last resting place near a historic old sun dial on the grounds of the Greencastle institution. Their ashes were scattered in that place by their son.

What a homecoming! What a time!

And what a "head" Sunday morning! Ohhhhhh! The week-end was certainly an eventful one for Lexington. All the grads in town... game... meetings... Gee, I'm glad to see you. What are you doing now? Fancy decorations on the Greek lodges... and the fine dance Saturday night. Another homecoming has come and gone.

The Roses

Everyone who has cast their peepers upon the gorgeous countenance of Miss Genevieve "Toddy" Lyles, have unanimously agreed that she is one of the most attractive gals on the campus. And it's not only the boys who think she is so swell, but all of the girls who have met her say she is the tops. These Yankee gals (she's from Cleveland) seem to fare pretty well in Ole Kentucky. So Toddy, to you we are tossing a large bouquet of roses because of your looks, because you can carry on an interesting conversation about things other than yourself, and because the leading sororities on the campus have been outdoing themselves trying to pledge you.

FLASH: Who were the buxom lasses seen in the company of Jim Smeek and Eddie "The Great" Recane the other night. Reliable reports have it that the boys are thinking of going into the brewing business and were trying out a couple of brewery horses.

A Curse to Humanity

In the dorm of the Sigep house there is just one double bed. In the last four years there have been just six occupants of this bed, and everyone of them has married. Those boys who have succumbed to its influence are: Leo Zeigler, Ben Stapleton, Gene Miller, Willie Stovall, and now, just about a week ago, Allen Brady stepped out and took unto himself a wife. She signed the license as Willie Ann Praas, and is a Theta Sigma Phi from Illinois. Now all of the boys are keeping pretty clear of this bed—but we understand that Dick Boyd has been trying to gain possession of it.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN
Kernel Sports Editor

Despite the fact that the Wildcats came through with their second Southeastern conference victory and pleased a large gathering of Homecomers who witnessed the 15 to 6 triumph over Florida, they were not overly impressive in the process.

Kentucky played better ball Saturday than they exhibited against Alabama, and, we are told, showed a great improvement over their performance against Auburn at Montgomery. Yet their top for the season, as far as team play is concerned, is still the losing battle they staged against Ohio State.

In that contest, if you'll remember, playing against a supposedly superior team, the linemen and backs of the Blue team really worked as a unit and each had the old "do-or-die" spirit all the way through.

Probably it is unfortunate that the Wildcats met Ohio State in the first week of October and became keyed up for that vital tilt so early in the season. Even though they followed up the next week with a smashing win over Georgia Tech, the letdown was inevitable and came apparently in the Auburn game.

After that beating at Montgomery, Dick Harlow, present Harvard coach, in a talk with Grantland Rice, cited Kentucky as an example of the problem which faces most football coaches. It is the task of keeping a team at fighting pitch throughout an entire schedule. According to Coach Harlow it just can't be done except in a few cases where the coach has a tremendously large squad with which to work as at Notre Dame, Ohio State and Minnesota. And even there, as has been shown in the past two weeks, it's a difficult job.

Harlow stated that the only thing a coach could do was to point for two or possibly three important games during the season and try to bring his team into these games in the proper frame of mind.

He went on to point out that Kentucky had evidently been worked up for the important game at Columbus and inferred that they went on to beat Georgia Tech on the strength of this same impetus but were mentally "off key" at Auburn.

Of course, the fact that Johnson, Nevers and Sam Potter were on the hospital list had much to do with the loss, but it was essentially the mental attitude that allowed such a large score to be registered by the Plainsmen.

Even the fact that they had a week's layoff didn't seem to help much in restoring the spirit and morale of the team and it was not until the 'Cats dropped that 13-0 decision to Alabama that they began to take the old interest in their work.

During last week's scrimmage sessions the freshmen had the unhappy task of trying to gain against an enthusiastic varsity. During the time that we watched the workouts, the frosh were "taking it on the chin" with astonishing regularity and the varsity seemed to enjoy "dishing it out".

Saturday, the team carried some of this enthusiasm into the conflict against the 'Gators and for the first part of the game looked great. For some reason, however, the attack bogged down in the middle and it was not until late in the game that Kentucky got underway again.

It may have been that Florida got tough out there in the second and third periods and they probably did, but at any rate, the Wildcats were halted.

It was an encouraging sign, though, to find Kentucky showing some vestige of top form. With the Tulane tilt coming up this week and Tennessee ready to appear here on Thanksgiving Day, the 'Cats should be just about primed to finish off the campaign in a blaze of glory by winning both engagements.

Notes on the recent Florida operation...after being bottled up since the Georgia Tech scrap Bob Davis finally got away in the closing minutes for another of his spectacular, slithering excursions to the goal line...aided greatly by Hammerhead McClurg's well-executed blocking...when Stan Nevers blocked the Florida punt for a touchback...we were uncertain for a few moments just what to score it...we thought it was two points but when Bernie Shively announced over the public address system that the score was then 10 to 0 we changed over to three points...a moment later he corrected himself, however...Nevers again gave a great performance at his tackle position...the Sunday papers failed to agree on the name of the song which was presented by the men's glee club during the half...one had it as the "Anvil Chorus from the Meistersinger" and the other, which was right...said it was the "Soldier's Chorus" from Faust...anyway they were agreed that it was a chorus..Frank Foster, managing editor of the Florida Alligator, student paper, was in the pressbox...sending his story by wire to Gainesville...where the school paper goes to press on Sunday...the athletic association has taken a tip from other schools and now serves cokes and sandwiches to the working press between the halves...Forrest "Aggie" Sale, one of Kentucky's two All-American basketball players...still retains his positions as custodian of the upper pressbox as a sideline...the freshman cheering section looked good...with everyone wearing blue and white frosh caps...the between-

Pledges to the Alpha Zeta included Howard Tilson and John W. Lynch, Lexington; Paul E. Carrico, Carrollton; and Fred McGoldrich, Versailles. Miss Vivian L. Muster, New Haven, and Miss Frances Brown, Brandenburg, were pledged to Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Mr. Weil reviewed his experiences since 1922. "We can become so over-specialized that our imagination is educated out of us, and we tend to become provincial in our limited fields," he stated. "Only minds that have quit thinking freeze into prejudice or intolerance. One of the reasons why farmers go to larger towns and become successful is that they retain their imaginations; but not many professional men can become successful farmers."

Shortly after the Wildcat touchdown, the two teams exchanged punts and Kentucky had failed to make a first down in midfield. Davis, with the ball on the 50-yard line, booted a beautiful punt high in the air and it was downed by Gene Myers, on the Florida one-yard line. Capt. Billy Chase stood in the end zone to punt and as he raised his foot to kick, Stan Nevers, 'Cat tackle, who played one of the (Continued from Page One) best games ever seen on Stoll field, charged through and blocked the punt, which bounced out of the end zone, automatically giving Kentucky a safety and two points.

Kentucky had everything their own way except for a few minutes in the third quarter, when the Floridians charged up and down the field for first five downs to one for the Kentucky team. Also in the early part of the fourth quarter when the 'Gators made their marker, it looked as if the Florida team would stage on of the Notre Dame last half rallies. The Kentucky fans did not feel safe until Davis made his spectacular run and give the 'Cats their nine-point lead.

The Wildcats scored their first touchdown early in the second quarter. After Chase had punted to the Kentucky 40-yard line where Davis took it and returned to the 45, Johnson gained three yards and on a reverse from Davis carried the ball for 17 yards and a first down on the Florida 35-yard line. Davis then gained nine yards around left end, and the 'Gators were penalized five yards, giving the 'Cats a first down on the Florida 20. Johnson then picked up 11 yards around right end. Davis carried the ball to the one-yard line, and Kentucky had it for second down and one yard to go. Johnson and Davis each hit the line for no gain and "Red" Simpson, sophomore fullback, carried it over for the touchdown. Seconds later he booted the ball between the goal posts for the extra point, giving Kentucky a 7 to 0 lead.

Statistics show that Kentucky gained nine first downs to eight for the 'Gators. On the total yards gained from scrimmage, Kentucky had 177 to Florida's 104. In the forward pass department Kentucky attempted three and completed one for 12 yards, had one intercepted and the other was incomplete. Florida attempted 15 passes, completed four for a gain of 22 yards and had one intercepted.
